

FAT BUDDHA
ASIAN KITCHEN

DINNER MENU

Fat Buddha Asian kitchen, Belfast.

Welcome to Fat Buddha Asian Kitchen, Belfast's newest Asian Fusion restaurant. Inside the restaurant, our design, food, drinks and service sets it firmly apart from all other traditional Asian-based restaurants in the city.

The Robata Grill is an age-old method of cooking in Japan, founded thousands of years ago, in the age of the Samurai. Still conducted today in modern Tokyo, Kyoto and other Japanese cities, it is carried out over an open fire. Here in Fat Buddha, we have used this cooking method as our centre piece of food theatre. We hope you will not only savour the succulent meat, seafood and vegetable dishes, but also enjoy the spectacle.

Our menu is based on Asian Fusion, which brings a host of ingredients, flavours and preparation methods. Many dishes will have familiar basic ingredients, but a finished look and taste which will be totally fresh and new.

Our drinks menu is full of traditional wines, beers and spirits, with many new twists commonly known as cocktails. At Fat Buddha Asian Kitchen you will not only enjoy high design, but a unique atmosphere and dining experience.

Once again, we welcome you and ask you to worship at the food and drinks altar of Fat Buddha.

As there are many varying styles of cooking (depending on what you order) meals may not always arrive simultaneously. Please allow for this if your party's meals are varied!

Food Allergies

Customers with food allergies (e.g. gluten, nuts etc) please advise your server when ordering.

Tipping

Our prices do not normally include a service charge. The only exceptions are for PARTIES OF 6 (or more) when a discretionary 10% will be added.

The management reserves the right to refuse service.
